

Shaun Stevenson

Vice-President, Trade Development and Public Affairs Prince Rupert Port Authority

Mr. Stevenson joined the Prince Rupert Port Authority in 1997 as Marketing & Communications Officer and has assumed progressive roles in helping lead the Port of Prince Rupert in its transformation from a regional port to an integrated global trade gateway during his 19 years with the organization. Mr. Stevenson currently leads the Prince Rupert Port Authority's Trade Development and Public Affairs team inclusive of marketing, business development, communications, community relations and government affairs portfolios as the Port of Prince Rupert works to enable the growth of the Port of Prince Rupert and realize nearly $30 Billion in investment and excess of 70 million tonnes of terminal capacity expansion over the next decade.

A key component of Mr. Stevenson's role with the Port Authority has been the growth and diversification of the Port's cargo business through work with shippers, carriers and project proponents investigating investments in new bulk, break-bulk, container, LNG and general cargoes terminal projects. He has led economic development and capacity-building initiatives to facilitate Port growth, including working directly with international corporations interested in establishing business relationships with the Port of Prince Rupert.

Mr. Stevenson holds a Bachelor's Degree in Administrative Studies and a Diploma of Marketing Management from the British Columbia Institute of Technology, and is currently completing a Masters of Business Administration at Simon Fraser University's Beedie School of Business. Mr. Stevenson lives in Prince Rupert with his wife Cindy and two children Brendan and Zosia.
